

Municipal board Decision expected On city plan soon

The municipal board's decision on whether Toronto's amalgamation proposal should be heard is expected shortly. The board reserved judgment last Thursday on the motion of York county that the board should not hear the Toronto proposal.

York County protested that Toronto had not provided affected municipalities with adequate information about the amalgamation proposal, that the people of Toronto should vote on amalgamation after all the facts had been presented them, and that Toronto's amalgamation was not amalgamation in the true sense of the word since only parts of two municipalities were affected.

Earlier last week at a meeting in Newmarket, the northern municipalities whose county levies would be doubled if Toronto's scheme is allowed, placed themselves squarely with the municipalities included in the amalgamation proposal in their fight against it.

Improved streets Recommended In Aurora council

A street inspector report with 27 clauses was presented to Aurora council for approval by Deputy Reeve Harry Corner, chairman of the streets committee, on Monday night. With the exception of a proposal for a stop light at the corner of Kennedy and Yonge Sts., the committee's recommendations for local improvements were all passed.

Included in the lengthy report was the recommendation that the town consider the purchase of a power grader. Each clause dealt individually with the need for fill, catch basins, culverts, storm sewers and the removal of dead or dying trees considered dangerous to traffic.

Deputy Reeve Corner also presented a sidewalks report, explaining that it was essentially the same report as had been presented last year. At that time it was impossible to undertake the repairs due to the shortage of cement. This year materials can be obtained in sufficient quantity to complete the work.

Mayor Alex. Bell strongly advised that action be taken by police to prevent the parking of vehicles on the streets of the town for more than five hours. Deputy Reeve Corner brought in a resolution to this effect which was passed.

It was decided to ask Chief Fisher Dunham for suggestions for the appointment of an officer to police the area surrounding the high school every Saturday night from 10 to 12. This action followed a request from Tom Dixon, at present in charge of the Saturday night dances in the high school auditorium. Repeated complaints of persons under the influence of liquor frequenting the dances has made it necessary for council to take this step.

It was also recognized that it was in the interests of the Aurora recreation commission, which sponsors the dances, to raise funds for playground equipment, that an immediate stop be made of this practice.

Over 600 Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Brownies and Wolf Cubs took part in the annual church parade of York Central District on Sunday at Aurora United church. Church services were conducted by Rev. K. D. Whatmough, assisted by Rev. H. Howe.

The parade was led by the Aurora High School Cadet Band and the Newmarket Bugle Band. There were 28 color parties. Following the service, the parade formed in front of the church for the march past.

The salute was taken in front of the post office by Scout Commissioner Clarke E. Locke and Guide Commissioner Mrs. Gunn. Mayor Alex Bell and other representatives of the district were present at the church and stood with the commissioners while the salute was being taken.

Bowser granted permit For Simpson office

John W. Bowser is applying for a building permit for the construction of a Robert Simpson Co. order office on the Yonge St. lots familiarly known as the Board of Trade property, in Aurora, asked council to have the fire escape on the town hall moved to a temporary location on the east side of the building. At present it projects over the lot of the proposed new building.

Mr. Bowser also applied for an easement over town property to gain access to the rear of the order office. In motion moved by Councillor Chas. Davies this was granted with a reciprocal proviso for right of way behind the new building. Lorne C. Lee, town solicitor, was instructed to draw up the necessary papers for the transaction.

Painter falls off new Specialty factory Bldg.

John Antol, Toronto, is in York County hospital, Newmarket, with fractured ribs and bad bruises. This week he fell off the new Office Specialty Mfg. Co. factory building being constructed at Holland Landing.

The workman was painting part of the building, being employed by the National Decorating and Painting Co. He was brought to the Newmarket hospital immediately. Dr. G. E. Case attended.

Blind campaign Reports progress

Contributions to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind may be sent to A. C. Lord, manager of the Bank of Toronto in Newmarket, or to Mrs. J. E. Morris, Prospect St. It was reported in error last week that contributions could be sent to Ken Flett, Bank of Montreal.

The campaign for funds is in its final stage. Mrs. Morris, chairman of the Newmarket and district advisory committee to the institute, said that final canvassing will be carried on until Saturday. Contributions may still be sent after that date, she said.

28,000 see games During hockey year

The first year of operation at the Newmarket arena as an artificial ice plant has been completed. Attendance figures showed total paying clientele for the Spittires' home games was 16,700. That figure included a pair of exhibition fixtures.

Markham with seven home games here drew 6,400 odd. The Town Mercantiles found favor with 1,566 customers. Opening night drew 987. Optimists-Lions hockey 884. Stroud play-off game, 610.

No accurate figures as to minor O.M.H.A. play-downs were available, but they probably topped the 1,000 mark. Total is 28,330 taking in the hockey games. Top drawing card proved to be the Gananoque-Spittires thriller with 1,378 of the boys and girls digging into their wicket to enjoy the benefits.

A special maintenance grant of $1,629 has been made for York County hospital, Newmarket, by the Province of Ontario. Grants to 140 Ontario hospitals amounting to $2,604,542 were announced recently by Premier Leslie Frost.

These grants, a bonus or special allowance, based on 25 percent of the grants paid in 1949 to the hospitals for maintenance costs, are in addition to the ordinary maintenance grants. The cheques in payment of the special grants are already in the hands of officials of all hospitals, Mr. Frost said.

Most ballots favor meters

Newmarket and district residents generally favor parking meters in Newmarket. The results of a vote conducted by the Era and Express show that of the 43 ballots turned in, 30 favored the meters and 13 opposed them for a business town.

The ballot was printed in the issue of the paper two weeks ago, and aroused considerable discussion. Subscribers entering the Era and Express office, while only a few of them bothered to send in their ballots, strongly expressed their opinions on the meters, roughly in the same proportions pro and con as indicated by the ballots.

A good many of the ballots carried notes of approval or opposition in addition to the standard "d." Such comments as "Best thing installed last November, the meters are on a year's trial.

ARENA PROFIT IS ESTIMATED MUCH LOWER

The Newmarket council has deferred consideration of a debenture for more arena work until an auditor's report has been submitted. A motion by Tom Birrell and J. O. Dales was passed Monday night for borrowing $22,000 to put in an arena floor, reduce the deficit and build a corridor on the south side of the building.

"If you have a $7,000 net profit, I don't know why you are asking for a debenture," said Mayor Vale. It had been stated last week at council that the arena had made a net profit of $7,000 since artificial ice had been installed.

Tom Birrell estimated that there was not $7,000 net profit. "There is only about $3,800 to do us to the end of the season and we have considerable debts to pay off yet and they will reduce the profit considerably," he said.

"Then this is just a cash statement," said the mayor.

Councillor Dales asked that the tentative statement be tabled pending an auditor's statement. "It will give a clearer picture of the financial position," he said. "We were told that there was a $7,000 net profit," said Mayor Vale.

"Well that isn't so. There is no use discussing this at all without an auditor's report," he said.

"The local paper was quite justified in publishing the profit statement last week. The report was made in council," said Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette. "Apparently there was no consideration taken of all the expenses. It is all very well to say the arena is a wonderful asset to the community but we cannot put a blanket mortgage on Newmarket homes without concrete facts known to the public," he said.

Optimist Jack Hamilton moved a vote of thanks to Joe Dales for the amount of time and effort he had put into Optimist club activities since its inception. "He has done a great deal behind the scenes for Optimist work," he said.

The Optimist club is sponsoring a carnival featuring the Green Amusements organization which provides ferris wheels and a variety of rides and games. The carnival is being held at the Stuart Scott school grounds next week, Wednesday to Saturday, May 10 to 13.

A complaint from the Boys' Work committee voiced disapproval of young boys being allowed to play pin ball machines in Newmarket. Chief Constable Byron Burbridge, an honorary member of the club, said that he had tried to bring in licensing for the machines which would put an age restriction on those who use them. "I would like to see a by-law which would put an age minimum on those who are allowed to put money into the machines," he said.

Re-elect Joe Dales Optimist president For second term

Jos. O. Dales was re-elected president of the Optimist club of Newmarket at a dinner meeting at the King George hotel on Tuesday night. Re-elected vice presidents were Jack Hamilton, Harley Brennan, sergeant-at-arms Morley Hunter. Allan Perks was elected secretary.

J. C. Purdy, vice president of the Optimist club of Keswick, conducted the election meeting and installed the officers. A club constitution was also adopted at the meeting and committee chairmen were elected.

Most of the Optimist executive members who started their term after charter night held office again. The club has been in existence for only five months.

A committee report from the chairman of the Boys' Work committee showed that the club had spent over $600 during the winter season to provide hockey equipment and activities for boys in Newmarket. The bantam hockey league and bantam all stars team were sponsored by the Optimists this year. Mr. Hollingsworth said that boys in the same age group are looking to the Optimists to start the baseball rolling for the summer season.

TEACH CANADIAN WAYS

Schomberg school
Aids Dutch get papers

Dutch Canadians from 16 to 60 who live in the Holland Marsh have been studying English and learning about citizenship at Schomberg during the past year. At the informal classes every Thursday night in the Schomberg school, these new Canadians have shown a great interest and enjoyment in the course which is partly sponsored by the Schomberg Lions club.

R. C. Flynn and Miss F. Agar, teachers at the village school, have been instructing in these English language classes for the last two years. About 25 attend Mr. Flynn's class and 16 Miss Agar's class. Besides English, the students study civics and citizenship.

The Dutch school was instigated in the fall of 1948 when the Schomberg Lions club held its first "Dutch Night." Half the program at the "Dutch Night" was put on by the Lions and the Holland Marsh citizens themselves put on a show for the latter part of the program. Entertainment and refreshments promoted good friendship and enabled the people of both communities to get to know each other. "Dutch Night" was held again this year.

It was at the first meeting that Lester Dillane of Schomberg, chairman of the Lions boys and girls work committee, suggested sponsoring a Dutch school.

The department of education now pays the teachers' salaries, supplies text books, and the Lions club provides the school accommodation and pays for heating classrooms. The department has put out three language books for Dutch Canadians, three work books and is now planning more texts.

The complete course is for 50 hours and on completion the graduates receive certificates. The school is still on the first class as the 50 hours of instruction have not been completed yet.

In conjunction with the citizenship course, the Lions have presented movies about Canada and citizenship at their "Dutch Nights."

As a result of training under this course new Dutch Canadians will be able to acquire their citizenship papers much easier. Such instruction in citizenship and language is now a requisite for obtaining their Canadian papers.

From the enthusiasm shown by the Dutch Canadians, it is doubtful that there will be a shortage of students at the school for some time.

Keswick News

Mr. Edward King, a north Vancouver contractor, died April 21 in a Vancouver hospital in his 79th year. Mr. King was formerly from Keswick, having moved to Vancouver in 1915, where he assisted in the construction of scores of homes and business blocks. He was a brother of the late Mr. Duncan King and Mrs. Robinson, uncle of Mrs. Orvan Huntley and Mr. Angus King, Keswick, and Mr. John King, Sutton.

The Scout mother's play Friday evening in the memorial hall drew a crowded house with even standing room crowded. Taking part in the play were Mrs. Helen Sinclair, Mrs. D. McGentry, Mrs. VanWick, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Alder, Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Dolan, Mrs. Royden Connell, Mrs. Annie Rye and Mrs. Findlay.

Mr. and Mrs. Denne Bosworth and son of Newmarket were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peel.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and young daughter were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lunn, Pine Beach.

Arena Packed

Last Friday night was certainly a night of merriment and enjoyment when the Keswick Memorial Recreation Hall was packed to capacity for the play sponsored by the Lakeside Women's Institute and put on by the Scout and Cub mothers.

Judging by the peals of laughter and shouts of excitement with which the drama was received, the audience was fully repaid for coming.

The plot of the play, which revolved around a widow and a widower who had the audacity to marry without first consulting the wishes of their respective families, was one of various plots and plans to separate the newly weds.

Resorting to fits, which by the way, rocked the hall with hilarity, and lunacy and ghostly visitations, the poor parents were nearly driven to distraction, not forgetting poor Nicodemus and Begonia Washington, the colored folk of the family who were so frightened by the ghost they literally turned black in the face.

But all's well that ends well. So when the children managed to fall in love with each other, well,

Mrs. Bernard Huntley's address that was a horse of a different color. Everything was finally straightened out to everyone's satisfaction, including Aunt Lydia who took Horatio's picture into her own room.

Mrs. Arthur Pollock and Mrs. Wm. Tomlinson were the directors. Mrs. Cowieson conducted vocal choruses between the acts which were much enjoyed.

The ladies of the Institute wish to convey their sincere appreciation to all who came and to those who made the delicious home-made candy.

A carload of ladies attended the W.C.T.U. convention of York and Peel counties in Willard Hall last Wednesday. A signal honor was paid one of the Keswick ladies, Mrs. Perry Winch, Sr., when she was made a life member of the Provincial W.C.T.U. and presented with a life membership pin. Mrs. Winch was also made president of York and Peel convention.

Music Recital

The recital given on Monday evening by the pupils of Mrs. Harold Pollard and Mrs. Angus Cowieson was very successful.

Instrumental and vocal selections showed much work and were a credit to both pupils and teachers.

Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Cowieson were presented with flowers by their pupils.

The beautiful spring flowers in the chancel provided by Mr. E. Taylor made a lovely background for such a happy occasion and the audience was very appreciative.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Purdy returned from Florida last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bothwell left on Thursday morning for Sault Ste. Marie where Mr. Bothwell has taken a position.

We regret to report that Gerry Porter is in Toronto Western hospital.

Bellhaven, who was represented at the inaugural meeting of the league last week, hasn't given a definite answer whether they will be seeking membership or not. Dot Menar and Ce. Both have been hit hard by loss of players.

says

Today, Monday, is May Day, and a dreary, cold day it has been; but this evening the sun shone for a short time, which raised our spirits somewhat and the weather man says sunny and warmer for tomorrow!

If you swear by the moon, then perhaps that is a good omen, for the moon changes today. It is full moon tonight and you know many people claim the weather at the change of the moon remains practically the same till the next change. If we are going to have any spring, then it can't be delayed much longer.

At any rate, we put out the bird bath this afternoon and cold or not, it wasn't many minutes till a cute little sparrow was having a dip and as I prepared tea, through the window I saw the robins

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

The Lions Minstrel Show is just about over. One more performance, at Mount Albert Sports Day, and the wigs go back to the mothballs, the throat gargles will be put away for another year, and wives will stop fretting over burnt cork on shirt collars.

Oh yes, the kids will learn to recognize their daddies all over again for during the show's duration and the extensive rehearsals that preceded it, poppy was seldom at home.

The show went to Schomberg on Wednesday and Thursday, it was at Beeton in the new hall that a community endeavor raised. The cast likes to think they were never better than at Beeton, probably because the acoustics of the hall made the singing a good deal sharper than at home. At that, the smile on Bill Grieg's face as he led the chorus a capella (if you'll pardon the term) in the strains of "Now Is The Hour" was never kinder.

The members of the chorus can pretty well tell how the show is going by the expression on Bill's face. His scowls are terrible to see. His smiles are like the sun breaking through April storm clouds. At Beeton, his face was beautiful.

We were all very much impressed by Beeton's children. Two solid rows of seats directly across the front were jammed with them, in age around six to ten years. They were most responsive and the intentness with which they followed the show was a reward in itself.

We rather imagine that Art Evans occupies a place comparable to Hopalong Cassidy in their affections. They shouted a first encore when Art finished his soft shoe dance and then demanded a second. After the show, they mobbed him like Stage Door Johnnies and Janies, wanted his autograph, wanted him to dance again, wanted him to promise to come back next year.

One cute button with a lovely head of hair framing a grave little face, told Art in her soft voice: "We are ever so pleased that you came and we enjoyed you very much. Please come back again."

We certainly can't refuse that invitation.

The show has been a source of intense pleasure for all who participated in it. It was the baby of Alex Eves but he brought it up in such a way that all of us felt we had a share in directing its growth. Such unobtrusive direction is a rare virtue and it meant a happy, co-operative effort. Bill Grieg directed the music with a discipline we all enjoyed. He was doing his best by us; we couldn't help but try our best for him.

Two babies were born to Minstrel fathers during the course of the show. Their timing was deplorable but neither Jimmie Sleigh nor Austin Brammer permitted these incidents to interfere, a notable contribution. Claire Blodslow, faithful attendant of rehearsals, wrenched his back a day before opening night and was unable to appear until the Friday performance in Newmarket when he arrived with an expression of pain on his face and a determination to go on with the show even if he landed in the hospital.

All of us made some sacrifices, mentioned here only because it helps demonstrate the fine spirit that existed backstage, a spirit which made the effort memorable.

But now, before we wind this up, we should like to report "How Persistence Won The Day" or "Virtue Triumphs" or "You Can't Keep A Good Man Down." In this column earlier we recorded how Grant Dillane muffed his big chance, to blow the whistle during the singing of Alabama Bound. Now we are happy to report Grant has redeemed himself. Alex chose him to swing a night stick and generally treat like a cop during the crap shooting scene in the second act. And Grant came through nobly. He strolled across the stage and never once tripped. Well done, Grant.

The Globe and Mail simply cannot bring itself to believe there are two sides to the amalgamation issue. With its habitual pretension to omniscience, it announces that it is "too late for argument". An editorial Saturday under this title announces:

"The ultimate fact about amalgamation, annexation, unification, or whatever it may be called, is that it is inevitable. It is one of the stages in the development of every large, modern city, and this happens to be the time when Greater Toronto must face the facts of its present and its future. Looked at honestly and without prejudice, these facts lead but to one conclusion—that only by union can the equality of services, balancing of tax revenues and comprehensive planning necessary to a great urban area, be achieved."

This is pure drivel and the Globe and Mail should know it. Toronto wants to amalgamate the suburbs because of the tax revenues they represent. If the city was concerned only with "equality of service" and "comprehensive planning", it could have had them long ago through inter-municipal commissions of the type which exist under county administration. "Balancing of tax revenues" is the vaguest sort of phrasing. Does it mean that the suburbs should help pay the city's costs? If so, why? There is no reasonable answer to that question.

On Tuesday three members of the Pine Orchard Trout Preserve had great luck bringing home over 100 speckled trout. The largest catch was 21 weighing 12 lbs.

Serving Newmarket, Aurora and the rural districts of North York

The Newmarket Era 1852

The Express Herald 1895

Published every Thursday at 142 Main St., Newmarket, by the Newmarket Era and Express Limited. John A. Moyer, editor. Subscription $4 for two years, $2.50 for one year, in advance. Single copies are 5c each. Member of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and the Audit Bureau of Circulations. Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

The Editorials:

The late Albert Victor Nolan

Mr. Albert Victor Nolan, late editor of the Stouffville Tribune, was an ornament to his profession, a good citizen who accepted public office as a responsibility every citizen should at one time share, a far-seeing man with the courage of his convictions. His active support of reforestation played no small part in the establishment of Vivian Forest, now cited most frequently as an example of what should be done to restore barren land.

We knew Mr. Nolan sometimes as a friendly editorial opponent, at other times as a staunch supporter, at all times as a contemporary whose editing of the Stouffville Tribune was a model of how a weekly newspaper can be made to serve its readers. His loss will not only be felt by those who knew him intimately through the columns of his paper, but by his editorial associates the breadth of Canada.

Under his hand, the Stouffville Tribune became the seven times winner of the Joseph T. Clarke Memorial Award for newspapers of its circulation class. Yet with this professional competence, it was a readers' newspaper too, with the largest circulation of any paper in a centre the size of Stouffville.

To his widow, and his son Charles who, during the past 13 years, has been his publishing partner, we extend our sincere regrets in his passing.

Not 'Inevitable' at all

The Globe and Mail simply cannot bring itself to believe there are two sides to the amalgamation issue. With its habitual pretension to omniscience, it announces that it is "too late for argument". An editorial Saturday under this title announces:

"The ultimate fact about amalgamation, annexation, unification, or whatever it may be called, is that it is inevitable. It is one of the stages in the development of every large, modern city, and this happens to be the time when Greater Toronto must face the facts of its present and its future. Looked at honestly and without prejudice, these facts lead but to one conclusion—that only by union can the equality of services, balancing of tax revenues and comprehensive planning necessary to a great urban area, be achieved."

This is pure drivel and the Globe and Mail should know it. Toronto wants to amalgamate the suburbs because of the tax revenues they represent. If the city was concerned only with "equality of service" and "comprehensive planning", it could have had them long ago through inter-municipal commissions of the type which exist under county administration. "Balancing of tax revenues" is the vaguest sort of phrasing. Does it mean that the suburbs should help pay the city's costs? If so, why? There is no reasonable answer to that question.

But to insist that amalgamation is inevitable simply because of precedent is the height of casuistry. The bigger Toronto becomes, the bigger it must become to support itself. If the city is permitted to amalgamate the suburbs now, it will be but a foretaste of what will happen 20 years hence. Big cities are economically unsound, as the experience of Toronto itself indicates. Why then, encourage further growth? It offers no permanent solution to Toronto's basic problem of financing itself by realty taxes.

Now is the time to check Toronto's growth, not 20 years from now when present difficulties will be multiplied. Why encourage the fallacy that more land will mean the city's economic relief and the suburbs and the rest of the county whose taxes will be all raised if amalgamation is permitted should make the willing sacrifice?

Now is the time to explore the possibilities of income and other forms of taxation as the means to maintain the city at its present size. There is no reason why the Globe and Mail's "inevitability" because of precedent should persist in blinding its readers to alternatives.

Parking meters poll

The results of The Era and Express poll on the parking meters shows an approximate majority of two to one in favor of the meters. Of some pertinence, however, is the fact that the majority of those who oppose the meters are out of town shoppers representative of a large share of the business done by Newmarket businessmen.

Many of those opposing meters objected to them as an irritation quite out of proportion to the good they do. No one likes to be subjected to the impersonal restriction of a clock on the end of a pole. It is a consideration worth making note of in a shopping centre where services are sold as well as goods.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat reports

Catnips By Ginger

The trouble with the trout last weekend was that they would not bite and among other things they were not even in the streams so's they could bite.

Me and my uncle, Col. Wellington Fitz-Privy, who is an ardent angler with many operational hours logged and who holds the distinguished five-pound trout award and bar set off for the back bush Friday.

We stayed overnight at the cabin of a trapper who is also good at making axe handles, poaching deer, cutting ice and digging holes behind cottages at an hourly rate. He is what you might say a versatility man of the back country. He is also steeped in an earthen type of philosophy.

On Saturday morning, the speckled trout season opened and uncle Fitz and I were prepared for all with our fly rods, extra socks and Smith Bros. cough drops to ward off the virus beasties. The district game warden shot off his starting pistol at dawn and all the city anglers shot away over the muddy roads in their multi-cylinder automobiles. The local dead pan wise men sat sagely and watched the advance into the jungles with calculating eyes. No doubt they were computing hourly rates to incomes they would derive from extracting stuck automobiles, leading fishers out of bogs or hiring themselves out as stretcher bearers.

As an encouraging parting remark, our trapper host said "You can't catch nothin' yit." "Come, old boy," said Uncle Wellington. "They have opened the season today so there must be hoards of fish or else why would they open the season, eh old boy?" Aside to me, "You had them been notified, the trout would have been much more considerate, I expect. For trout are always considerate but the government has made such a bosh of a poor thing out of the game laws and all opening the season that the trout just don't know where they are at. Besides what trout would want to be bothered with a game law for? He does not want to be socialized any more than you and I do.

We returned to the cabin of our host, the trapper, wet and raw and hungry as she wolves after a long winter.

"Told ya," said the trapper.

Anglers in the bush are a subject of much contemplation. Uncle Wellington may poke fun at the brain powers of the bush dweller. Yet think on it. The city angler fights at life all winter till his nervous system is like a set of overtight piano wires just so's he can go fishing and enjoy himself. The trapper enjoys himself all year round.

for every man for himself. This system has not worked out too well. "Everyone for himself" has worked out fine for some and not so good for others. Now we are trying by organized co-operation to bring back in some part the security and fair dealing that our pioneer people had.

We read today that one man can buy controlling or voting shares and control many industries. This cannot happen in co-operatives. In co-operatives, one member—one vote and no more. Sometimes this controlling interest in industry does not work too well for the consumer. The principle of co-operation is justice and fairness to all. In some cases in applying co-operation the principle is not held to closely enough and a wrong impression is given, contributing to the welfare of others built character in our pioneer people.

To study and apply co-operation is to contribute, not to receive. True, you can belong to a co-op. and not have any character building, but you cannot study and apply co-operation without your scope of thinking becoming broader; your sense of duty to society and your community developing. Co-operation can take you out of what could be called rut of thinking. Organized co-operation can embrace every phrase of our life or in other words is a way of life.

The system was that each individual, according to his ability, contributed to the welfare of the whole group. This did not mean that each one had the same amount of wealth or goods, but it did mean that everyone had an obligation to the settlement to see that there was no one in need.

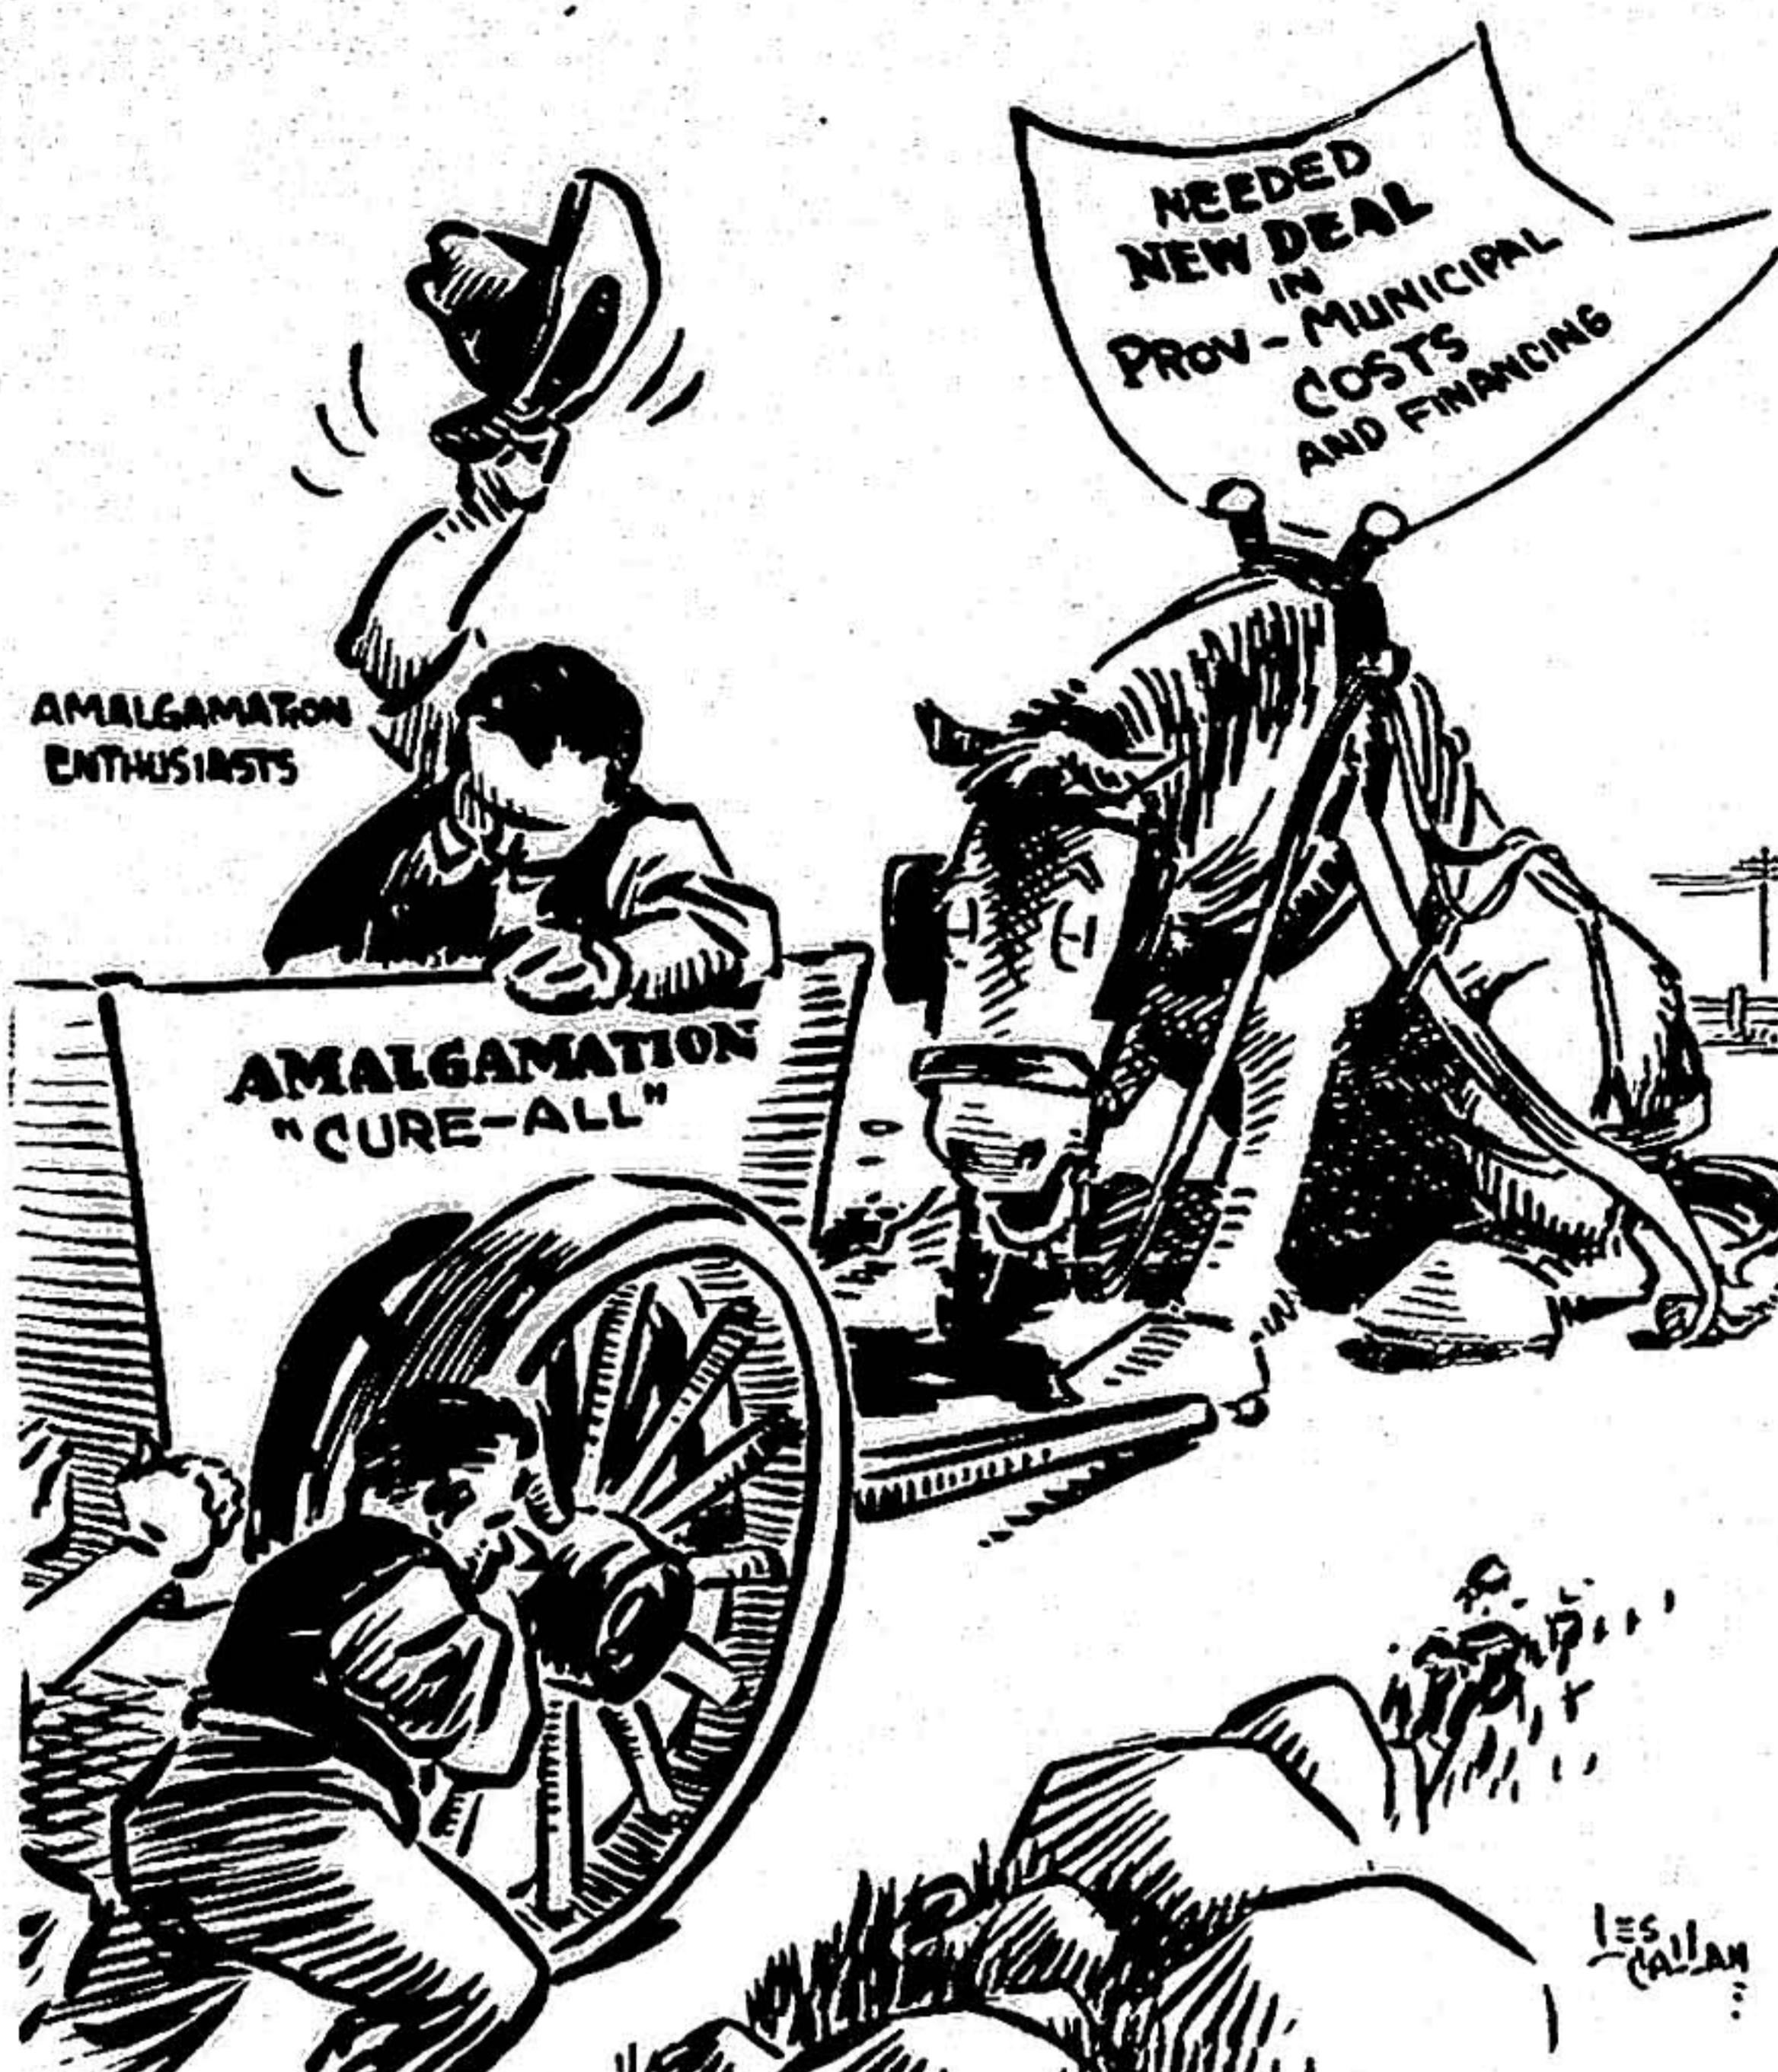

In dealing with each other, justice and fairness had to be practised—not that there was any binding rule but because it was the right thing to do. A man's word was his bond. There was no such a thing as a backer or co-signer to a note. If anyone did not comply with this way of living and doing business, or dealt unfairly, they were brought before the whole settlement and adjustment made.

The people complied with those things because it was right and they could not get along in a new country alone. As the country became more thickly populated, people began to break away from community assistance. And we started in

SHOPPING WITH BETTY

By BETTY BRENNER

Time to think of something for Mom on her day, May 14. Like a few suggestions? We saw various blouses at Hooker's in crepe, some with pearl button closing in pink, grey and white. A pretty hankie, perhaps with a lacey border, to tuck in a pocket or sleeve, is nice. Flowers make wonderful gifts and just now there are many varieties in the flower shops in Newmarket. Snapdragons, roses and daffodils in cut flowers and pots of beautiful cineraria and calceolaria are popular. Other suggested gifts, all seen in Newmarket shops, are gloves, soft scarves and perfume. Don't forget a pretty card—Rust Craft has some exceptionally pretty ones this year.

Wedding months are here again. A special gift that the lucky couple will treasure for all time is a sterling silver carving set to match their sterling flatware. We saw the Prelude pattern but there are others and may be purchased in Newmarket at Yates.

For late spring and summer it's the transparent look. We saw some dainty dotted Swiss material in a Newmarket shop, suitable for cool afternoon dresses, or blouses and fluffy evening gowns. It is in pale pink, blue and yellow with tiny white dots or white with red dots. Also noticed some fine white dainty with tiny pink and yellow rosebuds that would make up into dainty children's clothes or nightgowns for yourself.

A gay plaid skirt topped off with a dark short-sleeved coat makes a very attractive outfit. Eves' Ladies Wear has all wool authentic tartan skirts pleated at the back, wrap-over front with huge pin, which are exceptionally well made and good-looking. Tartans we noticed were Ramsey, Anderson and Dress McDuff.

Attractive and serviceable pyjamas for the young man seen in a shop in Newmarket are knitted cotton jersey, striped, short-sleeved top and plain bottoms. The tops may also be worn with overalls for playtime. Colors are

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Helping the blind to help themselves . . . that is the guiding idea behind the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind which is appealing for our financial assistance. Independence and freedom are precious to us all and the loss of sight to a man or woman increases rather than diminishes these strong desires for self-sufficiency.

This universal search for freedom and the right of private decision has been demonstrated to us clearly by the stories in our local paper concerning our New Canadians. In their desire to have these opportunities of independence for themselves and their children they have come of their own accord to a strange country. They deserve and are receiving a hearty welcome and encouragement.

Deserves Support

Likewise, such an organization as the C.N.I.B. which works so endlessly to compensate the blind person for his loss of sight by teaching him other skills, deserves and is receiving our support. There are some who can

BARBARA CASE WEDS

Trinity Anglican church, Aurora, was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Barbara Ann Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lancelot E. Case, to Eugene Lawrence Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rose. Rev. K. D. Whatmough performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a nylon marquise gown trimmed with inserts of white lace. Her long bridal veil hung from a dainty cloche fashioned of white satin and lace. She carried a white prayer book from which fell white satin streamers caught with pink rose buds and swansons. Her attendants were all gowned in nylon marquise made in bouffant style. Flowers to match their gowns were worn in halos and they carried colonial bouquets of snapdragons and pink roses.

Mrs. Dorothy Bowman was saluted in the May issue of Liberty magazine for her work with cerebral palsy children. We in Newmarket are well acquainted with Mrs. Bowman's story and justly proud of her efforts in this field.

It is very satisfying to see public recognition on a national scale being given to a Newmarket mother.

Sweet Words

The theory expounded by child psychologists that we praise our children more and find fault with them less could be carried over well into our adult dealings.

Why are we so reluctant to pat another on the back? What's your beef? No one needs a second invitation to air theirs, especially against someone in public life, the press or radio.

A pleasant exception occurred with reference to The Era and Express last week and Dr. A. L. Chute reported on the recent diabetic survey at an open meeting. Dr. Chute said that no small part of the success of the survey was due to the co-operation of the editor and staff of the local paper to this project. He complimented its reporters on their accuracy and attention to detail, none of which had been misconstrued or misinterpreted as had been the case with accounts carried by the large dailies in Toronto.

Following the ceremony Mrs. Lancelot Case received the guests at a reception held at the Gray Stones gowned in navy blue faille with white accessories. Her flowers were white roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who also wore navy with pink accents and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling the bride chose a golden gabardine suit complemented by brown hat and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose will reside in Aurora.

BEST GUYS IN WORLD

Haskett sings their praises

BY GEORGE HASKETT

In this sportscrubbing racket, you meet up with the best guys in the world. During this off season, we propose to bring you a few facts on these guys, the guys who keep the sport wheels churning in the canaltown.

Of course you all know them, but perhaps we often overlook the time and effort they put forward to keep sport moving. One unassuming chap, who more than anyone else to my mind has done great things to help minor sport along, is J. B. Walker. Perhaps you'll more readily recognize him if we say "Jim".

Must have been some 15 seasons ago when Jim arrived in the hub from our sister town of Aurora. Over those 15 years, if a fellow had a dollar for every hour, every mile his car has sped down the highway taking teams here and there—well, sir, you could just sit back and take life easy.

Jim, during those years, summer and winter, held about every

FULL HOUSE SEES ROD-GUN CLUB FILMS

The Newmarket Rod and Gun Club show at the town hall Friday was greeted with a full house. "Beyond our fondest expectations and everybody seemed pleased with the show" was the way Club President Albert Higginson described the response.

Four films carrying the addicts and their guests into the great outdoors were the main features. First of these, "Timagami Ranger," showed this beautiful district and had as the main theme "to be a good woodsman." The second film, "Fish Tales," gave the arm-chair fisherman a chance to join in on the other fellow's luck. Next was an "Outdoor Magazine Picture," another strike for the fishing enthusiasts, and last "Rainbow Parade," a carnival visit with birds, ducks and wildfowl.

Albert Higginson, president of the club, a club incidentally more interested in conservation than anything else, said they were out after increased membership. Club holds twice monthly meetings, first and third Tuesday in each month in the Veterans' Dugout.

Mr. Hudson of the research department of the department of lands and forests, and Inspector Ellis, Simcoe district game warden, were the guests and in charge of the films. Newmarket Citizen's Band provided the music. First steps towards a sportsmen's show, which the club hopes to hold before the year is out, could be seen in the displays at either corner of the hall by Bert Morrison and Newmarket Sports and Cycle Shop.

At the conclusion of the evening the election of officers of the club for the coming year was held. Albert V. Higginson was returned as president, Ray Smith was named vice-president, Vic Higginson, financial secretary, Art Ainsley, recording secretary. Joe Brammer heads the committee in charge of catering and entertainment. Andy Carrick was elected as sports manager.

TENNIS CLUB 'READY AYE' FOR SPRING

Just give us some spring weather and we'll have the courts in shape is the report from the over-the-webbing enthusiasts of the Newmarket Tennis Club. The courts have come through the winter in fine shape, just need a rolling job and little sprucing up and they'll be ready for play.

The club will welcome new members and is looking forward to a big year. Officers elected last fall for the coming season are Dr. John Dales, pres., Joyce Bothwell and Jerry Hugo, vice pres., Mrs. Mary Dales, sec., and Mrs. Margaret Davis, treas. Bob Yates and Keith Davis are hon. presidents.

The Newmarket club will again enter the York-Simco Tennis League. The latter organization expects to meet in the near future. If interested in a membership in the Newmarket club a call to any of the executive will get you the desired information.

Early season peek-a-boo: somebody let it slip. Queensville is going to sock the bejabbers out of all opposition. From last year to first this is the theme song up that way with Doug Beckett and Lorne Smith. Remind me in September—if I'm wrong.

Soundings, maybe blasting. Local mushball and addicts of the big diamond sport start circulating and percolating this week. Huge breeze fanning "to do" Tuesday. Maybe get some of the answers to ball problems, new diamond and floodlights.

Certainly one problem that needs a solution is how to put all these young whipper-snappers—you see them by the dozens toting a finger-mitt or a trapper around—into action. Even I could look good at first base with some of those combination scoop-shovel-trapper mitts now on display.

Newmarket Rod and Gun Club—the name is possibly a misnomer, main object is conservation—is seeking to increase its membership. Members and visitors enjoyed trip to Maple fish hatcheries recently, town hall was filled to capacity Friday for films and the club shortly expects to make a trip to Midhurst forestry station.

Sounds interesting. Phone Albert Higginson, Vic Higginson or Andy Carrick for particulars.

OTTAWA LETTER

by

Jack Smith, M.P.
North York

Last week the usual decorum of the House of Commons was disturbed by the presence of some half dozen communists who attempted to speak to the members from the public gallery. Visitors in the gallery of the House of Commons must always observe strict silence and are not allowed to applaud or in any way show approval or disapproval of the proceedings.

You can imagine the surprise of all last Thursday when just before the speaker's call to order, a loud voice broke out in the gallery. As one disturber was ushered out another took up the line and so on until a half dozen were removed. The disturbers were members of the communist organization which held a meeting in Ottawa that day.

Such incidents are very rare in the history of the Canadian Parliament. Members of the protective staff recall that it was 26 years ago a disturber had to be removed from the gallery by force. The late R. B. Bennett was in the midst of one of his heated orations when loud cries of "Repeal," "Repeal" were heard in the gallery. The offender was known as a character about town who shortly afterwards was taken to a mental hospital.

Contest Winner from North York

We had the pleasure and honor of this week of entertaining in Ottawa Allen Jackson of Newmarket. Allen, age 16, was the first prize-winner in an essay contest sponsored by the Canadian Legion open to all secondary school students in Ontario. The essay subject was "My Idea of Canadian Citizenship" and there were more than 3,000 contestants. The prizes to our winners was a two-day, all-expense trip to the capital city.

We entertained Allen to lunch in the parliamentary restaurant and showed him around the Parliament Buildings. We had a visit with the Prime Minister who gave a short but impressive talk on citizenship to the young people. Other prize-winners who accompanied Allen on the Ottawa trip were: Anne Cobra of Conniston, Barbara Boos of Kitchener and David Proux of Midland.

Rural Mailmen

Among the public servants of rural Canada none is more faithful or more highly regarded than the rural mailman. Day after day, in all kinds of weather, he renders an important and appreciated service to the people. Many of these men who deliver the mail have long records of public service.

In North York, the long service record is held by Edmund Groves who commenced service on Schomberg R. R. 2, on April 1, 1929.

Frank G. Gambrill commenced service to boxholders in King, R. R. 3, on December 1, 1920, and Ernest Cummins, King, R. R. 2, has been delivering the mail since July 14, 1924.

On May 18 next, "Billy" King will have completed a quarter century of service as the contractor for Keswick, R. R. 1. To all these and other mailmen, our congratulations and good wishes.

Ex-Prime Minister

I receive many enquiries regarding Mr. MacKenzie King's health and am pleased to report that he is progressing favorably. He has been confined to his Laurier Ave. home since before Christmas but with the coming of nice weather he is looking forward to being out again and hopes to spend much time this coming spring and summer at his beautiful country home in the Gatineau Hills.

Trade Outlook

Canada's trade outlook for 1950 is for a substantial rise in exports to the United States together with a fall in imports from that country, and a drop in exports to the United Kingdom and the rest of the world, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. Howe, told Parliament in introducing the estimates of the department of trade and commerce. The markets for staple products, such as wheat, flour, metals, lumber, pulp and paper, he said, seemed to be in excellent condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Green and Dianne spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lunn. Mrs. Green and Dianne remained for a few days with Mrs. Green's parents.

Sorry to report Pat Morrissey is still in York County hospital. We all wish him a speedy recovery.

Little Bryan Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clark, has not been well lately.

Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Lee visited Mr. and Mrs. Miller Sedore last Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Duncan, Sutton West, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sedore.

An Aurora Opinion

By

DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

Memorials to our fallen heroes of the war which came to a shooting end in 1946 have become more realistic than the cenotaphs erected to commemorate those who gave their lives in the 1914-18 world tragedy. The idea of dedicating funds raised in grateful memory for the purpose of providing new hospitals, artificial ice rinks and community centres is progressive. But we still have pyramidal piles of stone in almost every community, recording the names of casualties.

Once a year on November 11, soldiers, cadets and citizens stand in shivering rows around the cenotaph while the mayor or the mother of one of the boys whose name is listed on the copper plate, places a wreath at the base of the memorial. That seems to be the only useful purpose these wreaths serve, a prop for a wreath.

Aurora's monument with its light visible for miles as darkness falls, is perhaps one of the handsomest and most original built after the first great war. It could make a lasting impression on tourists entering our town if it were properly landscaped. Much could be accomplished other than just planting a few trees.

At present it stands in the centre of a field, surrounded on three sides by small trees struggling to reach its majestic height. It will be years before the trees are sufficiently grown to greatly enhance the memorial's dignity.

Town Crowded

With the increase in population since the war, there are more apartment dwellers and persons occupying one room, than at any other period in Aurora's history. It is no longer a small town where every citizen occupies a house with a garden to enjoy.

We have Victoria Park suitable for horse shows, carnivals, play rounds and parades, but it is hardly the spot to spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon.

We would like to suggest to the proposed park committee it

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

In 1791, Augustus Jones surveyed the Township of Scarborough, then called Glasgow, and the Constitutional or Canada Act dividing Canada into Upper and Lower Canada was passed by the British parliament.

Lt.-Col. John Graves Simcoe was appointed lieutenant-governor of the Province of Upper Canada.

On September 15, Augustus Jones completed the survey of the township of York, which was at that time named Dublin, and Simcoe changed the names of the Townships of Glasgow and Dublin to Scarborough and York, respectively.

In 1791, we hear about the Queen's York Rangers again.

After Yorktown, the sick, among whom was Lt.-Col. Simcoe, were paroled and allowed to return to New York. Simcoe returned to England and was soon elected a member of parliament.

When the act was passed dealing with the formation of Canada into two provinces, he was appointed the first governor of Upper Canada. He at once asked that troops be allotted to his province and eventually was instructed to reorganize his beloved Queen's Rangers, as of December 20, 1791. The regiment assembled at Chatham, England, and arrived at Quebec in May, 1792, where old members rejoined and a number of Canadians were enlisted.

Takes Oath of Office

On July 8, 1792, Lt.-Gov. John Graves Simcoe took the oath of office at Kingston, Ont., in the presence of members of his executive council, and on July 16, issued the proclamation dividing Upper Canada into 19 counties, of which York was the 14th.

Simcoe's executive council consisted of William Osgoode, William Robertson, James Baby, Alexander Grant and Peter Russell.

September 17 saw the first parliament and Upper Canada convened, and on October 15, the first session of the first parliament was prorogued.

The Township of Etobicoke was organized in 1792. The name is taken from the Indian Wah-do-be-kaung and means "the place where alders grow". It has an area of 27,976 acres.

Mimico, New Toronto, Islington and Long Branch have been incorporated municipalities since that time.

The Rt. Rev. William Markham, archbishop of York, England, gave his name to the Township of Markham, organized in the year 1792. It was first set up on the Don River.

Article five will deal with a number of "Firsts" in the county's development.

MONTREAL—Now what is it that people like most about chocolate? Its rich flavour? Its tempting colour? Its creamy smoothness? Probably all three when you come right down to it. And I'm so pleased to find that BAKER'S UNSWEETENED CHOCOLATE provides all three in any of my chocolate dishes. Baker's has that deep, dark deliciousness that makes chocolate the "most requested" flavour, for Baker's is all pure chocolate with nothing added, nothing taken away. Do try Baker's the next time you want to have a particularly grand frosting, or a superb chocolate cake. I know you'll enjoy Baker's richer flavour.

May's Longer Days mean jaunts to the country and evenings out of doors. I find I spend more time away from home in the Spring and Summer months. That's why my Safety Deposit Box at the BANK OF MONTREAL is not only a convenience—it's a necessity. I'm sure my valuables are properly protected when they're in the vault of my B of M branch. And one of the nice things about this arrangement is that it's so inexpensive! You can rent a Safety Deposit Box for less than two cents a day! So ask about this service at your nearest B of M branch. You'll find a B of M Safety Deposit Box will give you a wonderful sense of security!

Planning A Bridge Party? Your list of "nothing-but-the-best" refreshments won't be complete without RED ROSE TEA! Yes, Red Rose is a taste-treat to cause happy comment among your bridge guests. And it's not just a special occasion treat, but so economical that you can make an every-day, year-round habit of it! Did you know that a delicious flavour-packed cup of Red Rose Tea costs you less than a cent—including the cream and sugar? It's a simple, mathematical fact! Because Red Rose Tea is good tea, it actually gives you more cups per pound—its flavour goes a long, long way! Just one more thing. When you're ordering your Red Rose Tea, ask for Red Rose Coffee, too! You will find that Red Rose Coffee is as good as Red Rose Tea.

Just For Us Women... the makers of that good DURHAM CORN STARCH know that a handy to handle package helps make cooking a pleasure! That's why they've spent months designing this brand new Durham Corn Starch package that's a pleasure to open just pinch the top and roll back—no fumbling with a knife or other sharp instrument to open it! Inside you'll find "Durham" carefully packed in a paper bag. Then, when you've finished using it, replace the lid and your corn starch will be protected completely from dust 'till the next time you use it. And you'll be thrilled by the luscious recipes on every package of Durham Corn Starch. One of my favourites is Maple Walnut Creations—so good when it's made with Durham!

If Your Husband has discovered there's a "sooth" side to Spring gardening... here's the answer to his problem! SLOAN'S LINIMENT brings wonderful relief to muscles sore from digging and planting. In fact, Sloan's is a wonder for all kinds of aches 'n' pains! It brings amazingly quick relief to folks suffering from sprains—stiff necks, neuralgia or rheumatism. Winter, Summer, Spring or Fall... it's such a comfort! Ask your druggist for Sloan's Liniment tomorrow... it's only 40¢ a bottle!

There's Good Reasons why this Silver Moon Cake is so popular. It's tender, light, and melt-in-your-mouth. There's a reason for that, too, and the super-fineness, the superb evenness of SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR is the answer! Try this and see if you don't agree it's one of the best cakes you've ever made.

World prices factor in setting floor Watson declares

If a floor price policy is to work satisfactorily, prices must bear a reasonable relationship to world prices unless the government implementing such a policy is prepared to control production and prohibit import practices that are obnoxious to believers in free enterprise, W. P. Watson, Ontario livestock commissioner, declared recently at Guelph.

"Floor prices are within the category of a moderate effort on the part of man to temper with the system of free enterprise," Mr. Watson said. "This law has played an important part in the building up of this country and in order to make the policy of floor prices effective it becomes necessary for the government to set up an agency with power to purchase any or all the product offered if and when it reaches the minimum price.

No Easy Task'

"The government agency must then find a way of disposing of any product that it acquires. This is not an easy task unless the government is prepared to destroy the surplus. If it is offered in world markets, it must, according to Geneva agreements, be priced at not less than cost, otherwise the vendor will be accused of dumping and the product will be subject to countervailing duties which make the cost prohibitive to countries that might be customers. In the final analysis no country is likely to permit another country to dump products to the detriment of its own producers."

Speaking of the Ontario farmer, Mr. Watson said that most of the land in this province has been cultivated for more than a century. A greater part of the soil is in a lower state of fertility than it was at the beginning of the century. If economical production is to be maintained, soil fertility should be the first consideration of the farmer and particularly the young man who intends to make this vocation his life work.

"These costs can be reduced if our eastern farmers have as their objective greater yields from their acres," he declared.

"This is a feat than can be accomplished by adoption of a proper system of crop rotation, use of improved varieties and the judicious application of fertilizers. Greater yield per acre means more animal units per farm or what is equally important livestock that is better fed."

The speaker went into costs in various classes of livestock and then turning to grain he said that the western farmer can produce grain cheaper than the farmer in eastern Canada, but added costs must be figured before western grain reaches the east.

Zephyr News

Church Re-opens

By the number of cars parked along the streets of the village on Sunday, a passerby would certainly wonder what was going on. Well, it was the re-opening of the Zephyr United church after being closed for about nine months for renovations. There was, indeed, a record crowd at both services. Both church and Sunday-school room were full to overflowing. Friends from all the neighboring villages and towns came and joined us in the services.

Rev. Davies of Stouffville conducted the morning service. His winning smile and wholesome good humor, and most of all, his splendid sermon held the individual interest of the large congregation. The evening service was conducted by Rev. Shapter of Mount Albert. His sermon was on the very wide subject, "Stewardship." His discourse was both timely and appropriate for the occasion and many were the lessons which we in our lifetime can put into practice in the great and needful work of the present day work of the church.

The music so ably sung by the Zephyr choir and assisted by the Orillia quartet added much to the success and enjoyment of our opening service. Kindly comments and admiring words were expressed by our visitors. Hard work, given gratis, enjoys a little commendation and praise. Financially the people responded wonderfully, much to the delight of the financial board.

Much credit is due the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bamford, the building committee, official board and other workers who gave such splendid leadership and engineered the project to a successful end. The ladies of the congregation are indeed proud of the splendid up-to-date kitchen which was installed during the building operations.

Now that the one big job of beautifying and renovating of our church is over, let us continue our enthusiasm and support of the spiritual life of the church, which after all, is the most important. Come and enjoy our church services. Parents come and help us in our Sunday-school work—don't just send "Johnny" and "Mary" and stay home yourselves.

Miss Reta Horner, Hamilton, spent the weekend at her home here.

Miss Beth Silversides, Guelph, was home for the weekend.

The W.A. of Zephyr United church held a very successful meeting last Thursday in the Sunday-school room. Mrs. L. Profit, the president, conducted the meeting. A parcel post sale was held at the close of the meeting. The proceeds amounted to $38. Come and join our W.A. We now have nearly 50 members.

The W.M.S. of Zephyr United church is sponsoring a lecture and travelogue by Edna Jaques on Wednesday, May 10; in the Sunday-school room of the church. An afternoon tea will be served. Come and enjoy a real literary treat and pleasant social time.

The Presbyterian church here will hold its services at 10:45 a.m. instead of the afternoon during the summer months.

The W.A. of Zephyr United church is sponsoring a play entitled "Grandpa's Sister," to be given on the evening of May 16, by the young people of St. Catharines church. Come and enjoy an evening of fun and pleasure.

We are glad to report Mr. Ben Kester is improving although still confined to his room.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lockie and Dale have moved to their new home at Miami Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Parker and Peggy spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Galbraith.

Farm Federation News

At Vandorf hall, April 27, the farm people of Whitchurch township completed the organization of the township unit of the federation of agriculture. Kingsley Brown, the editor of the Rural Co-Operator, was guest speaker.

Mr. Brown spoke on parity farm prices and the benefits to farm people from federation organization. Mr. Loveless, president of the York county hog producers, read a letter from the secretary of Ontario hog producers saying that there was a possibility that the government might lift the embargo on U.S.A. pork products.

This would mean we would have to compete with cheap corn-fed hogs. The price of live hogs in the States is around $10 per 100 lbs. To our dressed weight hogs, corresponding price would be around $22 per 100 lbs.

Mr. Loveless asked that the Whitchurch township federation take some action. A committee of three was appointed to wait on our federal member, Mr. Smith. A letter was sent to Mr. Gardner, minister of agriculture, protesting that the floor prices set on farm produce were not the cost of production.

There were two questions asked from the floor: What was the pro rating charges on livestock? No one in the hall knew the answer. How much money each year was collected by one-half of one percent condemnation insurance on livestock. How much of his fund was used to pay for condemned stock? No one present had ever heard of a statement being given. The farmers pay those charges and should know how the money is spent.
